The lottery syndicate that offers more for less

We are not really business minded people. We just realize that the chance of winning a major prize is better through gaining more members in our group.

Even if you join on your own, you already have the best deal around.

If you can bring in more members, we don't mind spending a bit more so that our chances can be better.

How can I earn some cash?

Every playing member automatically becomes an affiliate that if you could bring members in our group, you would get 10% for every £5 pound that they give. This may not be too much but from the sound of it, you are the one earning more and not us.

At the moment, the maximum amount anyone could contribute is £25 per month. Of course, this could change and with more members this would also potentially increase your earnings over time.

You could enjoy this offer on conditions that:

a) You should be a playing member of UK-Lottersyndicate yourself to receive any cash.

b) The incoming member should have informed us through his/her application form that he had joined the syndicate because of you. In cases where the potential members have included 2 or more names in the form, we would distribute the percentage earnings proportionately to the 2 or more members.

c) For purpose of confidentiality, we could not disclose information of members to one another apart from what was stated under FAQ's "Do group members get a copy of the tickets prior to the draw?"

d) Potential lottery syndicate members could not recommend oneself nor one another prior to joining in.
